Responsibilities:

- Expertly presenting PRIMA and its products on the phone, electronically and in person
- Conducting prospecting and customer qualification on an existing client database
- Sourcing new sales leads within the energy and agricultural industries across their relevant stakeholder base
- Closing sales deals on a consistent basis
- Working closely with PRIMA's editorial department on business development
- Travelling to events to gather information, develop your network of industry contacts and promote PRIMA

Requirements:

- Pre-existing permission to live and work in the US
- Proven track record of relevant business to business sales experience
- High-level written and spoken proficiency in English, with an ability to write in English to a professional standard
- A strong telephone manner coupled with a resilient nature
- High degree of IT proficiency
- Strong interpersonal skills, with an ability to build contacts with industry executives
- Ability to work under pressure and to meet tight deadlines
- A passion for the promotion of renewable energy and climate change issues
- A desire to learn about financial markets and over-the-counter derivative instruments

If this sounds like you, please contact careers@prima-markets.com with a CV and a brief covering letter telling us why you're the person for the job. Due to the high volume of applications, we are unable to notify unsuccessful applicants.
